About This Course

In most organizations, leaders "in the middle" face unique challenges not found elsewhere because they must lead in all directions. At this level, they face expectations and pressures from subordinates, peers, and senior leaders.

This course will help supervisors master the art of leading in multidirectional environments, fostering collaboration, building strong teams, and leveraging influence to achieve collective goals.

Who Should Attend?

This course is designed for law enforcement and public safety professionals who lead teams, manage competing expectations, or are preparing for supervisory responsibilities. It is appropriate for:

- First-line supervisors and sergeants
- Team and unit leaders
- Emerging leaders
- Sworn personnel
- Professional staff

What You Will Learn

Participants will develop practical leadership skills to:

- Lead in multiple directions
- Manage competing expectations
- Strengthen leadership communication
- Build collaboration and trust
- Develop effective teams
- Lead through influence
- Lead with purpose and confidence
